What is Omaha Children's Museum?

Omaha Children's Museum began its operation in 1976 out of the back of a station wagon, delivering workshops and programs to thousand of area children. Since its inception, the museum has been a special place where children can challenge themselves, discover how the world works and learn through play. It is Omaha's primary participatory museum and provides an ever-changing series of hands-on exhibits, workshops, program, presentations and special events that put children in touch with their ever-changing world.

Educational programming is an area of strength for Omaha Children's Museum. Special offerings such as focus field trips, workshops, presentations, and birthday parties help round our the experience for our young visitors.
